BLUE LETTER BIBLE MAGNIFYING GOD'S WORD

New Accreditation Partnership with Lancaster Bible College | Capital Seminary & Graduate School

Blue Letter Bible has teamed up with Lancaster Bible College | Capital Seminary & Graduate School (LBC | Capital) to offer eight new video courses and the opportunity to earn up to six hours of credit towards LBC | Capital's accelerated online undergraduate degree program.

According to BLB's Chief Operating Officer, Andy Guastafarro, "The blessings of entering a partnership like this simply cannot be overstated. LBC | Capital has graciously provided us with eight excellent biblical studies courses that are complete with video, enhanced learning activities, and exams. To top it off, students can receive credit towards one of LBC | Capital's accredited degree programs—all at no cost to our students. This really is unique in the world of online learning, and we return all of the praise to our Lord for directing both institutions in this way."

Zachary Ritvalsky, LBC | Capital's Vice-President of Institutional Alignment adds, "LBC | Capital and BLB are engaged in complementary missions. LBC | Capital's mission is to educate Christian students to think and live a biblical worldview and to proclaim Christ by serving Him in the Church and society. BLB provides a platform towards this mission by providing select portions of LBC | Capital course content, at no cost, to a global audience. LBC | Capital also provides a natural progression to BLB students who may desire accredited associate and bachelor degrees."

Our hope and prayers are that God will use these and all of our courses to equip and encourage believers all around the world, many of whom are not situated or resourced to receive formal biblical training.

Zachary Ritvalsky went on to say, "LBC | Capital's prayer is that BLB students will utilize our course content around the world to fulfill their calling, to grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, and to serve Him with skill and excellence."

STAFF TIP: BLB Institute's Auto-Save and Offline Features

David Larson

Accidents, interruptions, or power and internet outages can happen at any time, even while you're in the middle of a test at the Blue Letter Bible Institute (BLBI). That's why we added a feature that saves your test progress securely in your browser whenever you answer a test question in a BLBI course. If one of life's many interruptions happens before you can finish your test, you can pick up right where you left off. Additionally, if you live in an area or mission field where there is little or no internet access, you can freely download all of the audio and readings for any of our many courses at no cost. Simply open any BLBI course summary page on an internet accessible computer, click on the "Download All" button, and save the course materials to your computer or a USB drive for offline use. Whether you are enrolled in a course and completing tests, auditing a course for a test-free way to track your course progress, or studying course materials offline at your own pace, BLBI provides a cost-free, stress-free way to learn more about the Word of God.

GOD'S WORD IS ALIVE & ACTIVE

A Significant New Addition to Our Library of Courses at Study.Bible (BLBi)

I want to take the opportunity in this space to express my enthusiasm for the BLB Institute's new partnership with LBC | Capital. I would like to zero in especially on one of the 8 course offerings—Biblical Hermeneutics. Now hermeneutics is a strange word. I would guess that you have not used it in conversation lately. But the word simply means “guidelines for interpretation.” At BLB, we are passionate about getting people into God's Word. But we do not want them to merely read it—we want them to understand it!

A hermeneutics course gives us the tools necessary to arrive at the correct meaning of a given passage. Understanding a verse is much more than “what it means to me.” It is grasping what God intended to communicate when He inspired every word of Scripture. This means avoiding the temptation to quickly jump to a conclusion that may or may not be accurate. It involves investigating the grammatical and historical context, key words and sentence structure, nuances of the original language, etc. Such diligence is not only worthwhile, it is required of the workman who is presented as approved to God, “accurately handling the word of truth” (2 Tim 2:15). And of course, our BLB web site provides many of the tools that are discussed in the LBC | Capital hermeneutics course. I strongly encourage you to consider whether this and the seven other courses provided would accelerate your spiritual growth.

User Testimony

BLB has made the Bible very accessible to me via the iOS app. I am able to highlight passages and make notes for easier reference without having to carry notebooks, papers, etc. The reading plan helps me track my progress in reading God's Word. The commentaries, various translations and other study tools help provide clarity and understanding. Thank you so much for the service you provide.
